

Raising the New Quetzalcoatl Energies

Four of us trekked through sacred Hopi ground near Four Corners in Arizona on March 20th. The purpose was to bring in the spring equinox, and we did so adjacent to the Little Colorado River. In a valley somewhat sheltered from the elements, we set up our circle and I placed IHHE, my sacred crystal skull in the center.

The last time we there for ceremony was on the Winter Solstice, 2008. At that time we were anchoring the Quetzalcoatl energies and releasing hidden, imposing, and interfering agendas for all to see so that they might be cleared over the following year. By anchoring the Quetzalcoatl energies, we were preparing the sacred ground for our sustainable development, which had been hindered by corrupt good ol' boy agendas and their systematic criminal behaviors, characteristic of the paradigm that we are now seeing collapse upon itself.

But here we were, a little over a year later on a brisk day, readying for the descent of the serpent Kukulcan, also known as Quetzalcoatl, to burrow into the Earth at 5:31PM. We invoked the Bacabs, the crystal guardian of the galactic plane - IHHE, Mother Chel, and Father Itzamna, and invited the ancestors into the circle to witness and aid us in granting our petitions. Needless to say, it's been a hell of a year, with the Earth shaking herself clean of the scum that has settled on her and of the negative energies and superficial structures that have been imposed upon her. Some of those hit hardest have been those whose lives have been most impacted by US greed and corporate wheeling and dealing. But our mission on this afternoon was to bless our land and witness the seeding of a new vision, free of the criminal element that has tied up so much of the world, the US, and our sacred land.

We opened the doors to the ancestors to invoke their powers to protect the planet and our land. We asked for aid in ushering the new cosmic and planetary energies that will help us to birth our vision this year for our sustainable community. We petitioned Itzamna and Chel to unleash the blood of our Mother Earth, so that she would quench the earth with new life and new potential, heralding the fruits of the earth for our community.

We asked the Great Mother to welcome the seed of the serpent Quetzalcoatl, so that he would inseminate her and bring the emerging Earth energies to fulfillment. We asked that the blood in the Mother's veins awaken and saturate the land with its healing and cleansing flow, birthing the fruits of our hard labors.

We asked that the serpent Quetzalcoatl use us as vessels to raise our kundalini energies and create new life, displacing the old resource-ravaged soil with a new DNA imprint. We asked that the blood of our ancestors also replenish and revitalize the earth so that the emerging galactic activations could take root within the Great Mother.

We raised the earth to heaven and brought heaven to earth so that we could realize our earthly vision as a result of this equinox ceremony. We set our intention so that during this pivotal point on the planet and on our land, we would manifest the rooting and growth of our new vision and our new Earth. We drew down the serpent energy, raised it, drew it back through ourselves to the Earth, and then closed our circle in thanks. With IHHE packed up, we left the land to allow it to take root and realize our vision over the next year.
