

Gemini New Moon – June 12, 2010

By Barbara Hand-Clow

It is the New Moon in Gemini, the time to experience the widest possible dissemination of the things we've been creating since the Spring Equinox. As I said in the reading for the Spring Equinox, 2010 is expected to be an unusually formative year-and this is turning out to be absolutely true. The mind-boggling events triggered by the culmination of the Mayan Calendar Underworlds make it hard to think clearly this spring because of rapid time acceleration. With this Moon in Gemini, we must clarify our minds to assess what we are creating in clear and grounded ways. Otherwise, you can be seized by the Gemini frizzle-trying to do a million things at once while never finishing anything. Regarding getting caught in the frizzle, remember that the collective realm is being created by what each one of us is thinking about; during this lunar cycle, you must reign in your mind-or suffer the consequences!

The previous Full Moon in Sagittarius on May 27 set some processes in motion that are deeply influencing the solar and planetary fields during this New Moon: Uranus went into Aries during the Full Moon, and then Saturn went direct on May 30, and Neptune went retrograde on May 31. When Uranus went into Aries during the May Full Moon, a no-holds-barred recklessness gripped our collective minds, a push to "just do it"! Right during the Full Moon, British Petroleum attempted to stuff the oil volcano with sand and junk, the "Top Kill" approach, and Israeli commandos attacked a flotilla going to assist Gaza carrying humanitarian supplies and peace activists from many countries. Financial markets were destabilized by problems in the European Union, and the world feared another financial collapse. When Saturn went direct on May 31, there were worldwide demonstrations against Israeli aggression and the Gaza blockade, and more of Israel's friends, such as Turkey, withdrew their diplomatic support. This Middle Eastern realignment just when Uranus went into Aries, Saturn went direct, and Neptune retrograded is a significant sign of change aimed at making Jerusalem a vortex for peace, not constant aggression. [See The Mayan Code: Time Acceleration and Awakening the World Mind, where I predicted this vortex would open in 2008, so this movement is way overdue.]

On June 8, Jupiter attained its first of three conjunctions with Uranus, which signals big turning points in financial structures and general wellbeing. On that day, we heard that the distinguished White House correspondent Helen Thomas was being vilified because she spoke out rashly against international Jewish control of Palestine, a big no-no in Washington, DC. We need to examine the Uranus ingress into Aries, which can inspire brilliant and innovative actions or merely rash and thoughtless behavior. No matter which path, people will express themselves, just like Helen Thomas.

Uranus is dipping into Aries for just a few short months (May 27-August 14), as Uranus will turn retrograde on July 5 and move back into Pisces on August 15. On March 13, 2011, Uranus will go back into Aries for seven years, and March 2011 is the opening of the Ninth and final Underworld, the Universal Underworld. See [www.Calleman.com for reasons why Calleman has now declared that the opening of the Universal is March 8, not February 11, 2011.] Thus, Uranus is in Aries this year only from May 27 through August 15. Yet, factoring in current time acceleration, during these few short weeks we can identify key transformation processes that can push us to evolve beyond the current quagmire.

The only way we can attain our next evolutionary stage is by means of a group endeavor that leaves no one behind. Therefore, Jerusalem must be freely shared with all three major religions. There are no Chosen People, including the 144,000 who believe they've been selected for the "Rapture", because we are all children of the divine. Many people realize that religious chauvinism must cease now, simply because it's not worth destroying the whole world to solve the issues of one group on the planet. Likewise, the disaster created by British Petroleum was the talk of the day on June 8, and many people are realizing that corporate power must be curbed before it is too late.

When Uranus is in Aries during these few short weeks, events will occur that will reveal the nature of the financial and cultural transformations that will define our future. Something new is coming forth now, so identifying it makes it possible to align with new paths. Uranus in Aries is bold and impulsive, and every 84 years it forces things to change that have been stuck a long time. All of us should be looking for these clues during this period because we all need them for a sense of direction in uncharted waters. After all, major Saturn, Jupiter, and Neptune transits are also part of this crazy drama that seems to be spiraling out of control. New innovative shifts are going to be clean paths that lead into the magical transformation of Earth.

On May 30-31, this ripping transformative process was stirred up by the nearly simultaneous directional changes of Saturn and Neptune, and the first Uranus/Jupiter conjunction in early Aries on June 8 opened new realities. Now, the hyperactive and fluttery New Moon in Gemini establishes a new sense of direction, and you do too! As I weave together these other major influences all happening at once, please retain a feeling for Uranus in Aries-either being caught in out-of-control change with little understanding of the consequences, or a literal genius for knowing what to do next, or both! Neptune retrograde offers deep intuition, and Saturn-direct brings us confidence to deal with pushy Uranus in Aries. Saturn goes back into Libra on July 21, 2010, when confusion will reign as many people begin to waffle back and forth between options. At that point, Saturn in Libra opposite Uranus/Jupiter in Aries square Pluto in Capricorn will be locked into a cardinal T-square, the so-called Cardinal Crunch.

Under cardinal signs, new actions take over, so Uranus in early Aries makes change unstoppable. It would be smart for you to make needed structural changes right away during this New Moon, because in early July everything will start flying madly around you; you will be grateful for any firm bearings. Through the end of 2012, Saturn in Libra will eventually inspire new ideas of fairness and balance, but in its early degrees, the world will seem to be indecisive and undetermined because we are learning how to handle problems by working with others instead of being such loners. Normally I wouldn't pay so much attention to Saturn going back into Libra, but 1) the Cardinal Crunch is building, and 2) we are in critical end zones in the Mayan Calendar.

Neptune turns retrograde on May 31 at 29 Aquarius and moves all the way back to 26 Aquarius. Then this elusive planet that rules our connection to spirit turns direct on November 6, the opening day of Day Seven of the Galactic Underworld! Neptune moves into Pisces-its own sign and therefore its highest vibration-in early April 2011, right during the early stages of the Universal Underworld, when it will offer enlightenment to each person. I am decoding this fantastic drama being played out in the skies because all of these planets are manifesting major movements between the May 27 Sagittarius Full Moon and the Gemini New Moon; so, they describe what the Gemini New Moon is disseminating. Regarding Neptune completing its last transit in Aquarius, the period from now until April 21, 2011, is when we each develop our own methods for accessing the spiritual realms. Once you find something that works for you, you will never go back because you will actually experience the spiritual realms creating reality with you. Life is so much easier this way because you are using your whole brain capacity.

There is no reason to doubt the outcome of these monumental transformations, since Jupiter is conjunct Uranus on June 8 expanding the powers of Uranus exponentially. With both planets in 1 Aries moving into cardinal squares with Saturn and Pluto, people won't hold back. This cardinal T-Square will create riots, revolutions, and mayhem, or world-changing creativity, since we can't go on as we have been. For each person, this is a time to be grounded, to remember exactly why you are here and where you are going, and to breathe consciously. I also would suggest very little exposure to the media right now, because it will be hammering out the latest Global Elite program that is designed to dishearten you and weaken you-and to steal your soul. For example, news about the oil volcano is only worth watching if the oil predators are being jailed for gross negligence and greedy profit taking!

Before tackling the New Moon reading, I have been asked by many students to offer my perspective on the oil spill. In the Taurus New Moon reading, I said that during May and June we would find ourselves processing the Regional Underworld cataclysms that peaked around 10,000 to 9500 BC. The Icelandic volcano has been doing a nice job of helping us remember the Regional cataclysms, yet, I think the oil volcano is going to end up being the real cataclysm during Night Six of the Galactic Underworld.

It is going to change the mix of oceanic species, and it is also going to force our politicians to address corporate irresponsibility and deviousness. For example, if corporations are allowed to continue to rape the planet at this rate, the extinctions could be as great as the extinctions that made way for the Cambrian Era explosion of new species 330 million years ago. This danger lies in the undersea oil plumes, which are "having a drastic impact on the chemistry of the ocean, with dissolved oxygen levels plunging as each plume drifted through the sea." ["Scientists Build a Case for Undersea Plumes", New York Times, May 29, 2010.] To lighten things up, several other students commented, "At least the Pope got a break," which sounds like a cute joke, yet it is true, since the Pope may have been close to getting sacked himself.

In Chapter Two of Alchemy of Nine Dimensions, I discuss Thomas Gold's "Abiotic Oil Theory", which proves that oil is a renewable resource because it is being continually created deep below Earth's crust. You'll have to check Alchemy or the Internet for the full description of this theory, which has been deeply hidden from the public eye. The belief that oil is a nonrenewable resource has made it possible for corporate oil predators to manipulate the world through the latter half of the Planetary Underworld. That is, the public thinks oil is scarce and soon to be used up, so they pay high prices for black gold and support dangerous practices such as offshore drilling. Gold's theory has been widely known in scientific circles since the 1970s, when the Russians built around 300 deep drills to tap the renewing oil. Meanwhile, it is much easier, cheaper, and riskier to reach the deep oil sources by extending a pipe down to the ocean floor, where the oil sources are closer to the crust, than it is to drill through miles of bedrock. But, the oceanic pressures make this method very risky.

In other words, the latest BP gusher is not about a pocket of oil that will soon empty out, BP has pierced the circulatory system of the Mother and she is bleeding! This is the great cataclysm of our times that will likely cause mass extinctions of many species.

There is even more going on here. For many years now, people have nervously awaited April 19-20 because terrible events have occurred mostly in the US, such as the murder of David Koresh and his community at Waco, Texas; the Columbine Massacre in Colorado; and bombing of the Murrah Federal Building in the Oklahoma City. These events were man-caused, just like the oil volcano, and these corporate predators in clean suits are terrorists. In the reading for last month's New Moon, I commented that, "Humanity has never been so aware that it is in great danger by its own greed and lack of foresightedness." Seems to me, the oil disaster is the essence of greed, and a threat of this magnitude must force the public to demand that corporations become accountable-all corporations, including the Vatican. So, whew! Let's see how the creation fields of the Gemini New Moon are going to help us survive personally during the fall of the patriarchy that used the Planetary Underworld time acceleration to create corporations that dominate and rape our planet.

The New Moon in Gemini is simply going to disseminate all activity on the planet as quickly and easily as possible. Lately, the New Moons have had one heavily aspected planet that ends up being the key to the whole scene, and this month it is Mercury, the planetary ruler of Gemini itself. This hyperactive Mercury doubles the dissemination factor. Mercury in 4 Gemini sextiles Jupiter/Uranus, squares Chiron/Neptune, exactly quincunxes Pluto, trines Saturn, and squares Mars. Mercury is awareness-seeing the truth, sensing reality, and knowing how to respond-so during this New Moon, the public is going to wake up and realize that the Global Elite corporations are evil, dishonest, heartless, and dumb. The New Moon itself-with the Sun and Moon in 21 Gemini-is going to be the funnel for this awareness. Newly direct Saturn in Virgo squares the New Moon, an aspect that will temper and ground the public rights. It will easily birth new forms to assist the people, including a sharp turn to alternative and renewable energy methods. Chiron/Neptune trining the New Moon suggests that a deep healing will result from the public awakening, especially since Neptune rules the sea. For example, the corporations were already destroying the oceans, but this catastrophic BP incident makes it possible for more people to see the truth.

Since Mercury rules Gemini, the sign of this month's New Moon, I will decode the multiple aspects to Mercury. Just allow yourself to feel Mercury as a spinning vortex gyrating in the field that is setting off the powers of all the planets in these multiple aspects. Facile Mercury in Gemini sextile Jupiter/Uranus just past their conjunction in Aries, showcases Mercury's astonishing transformative skills that we can and will use this month. Focused Mercury square Chiron/Neptune in late Aquarius/early Pisces emphasizes the profound healing and transformation that we all have enjoyed from the sea; many will cry out for cleansing from high spiritual planes. If you do, you will have to begin with your own inner pollution. Pluto, the ruler of oil, exactly quincunxes Mercury, which means the determined ruler of the deep is pushing our species to get intelligent now, to face great peril. Incisive Mercury trine Saturn in Virgo calls for steady Father Time to provide new methods and structures, and to listen to the chorus of free scientists who can offer good solutions. And, Mercury square Mars in Virgo calls for wise and grounded actions in the middle of seemingly impossible dilemmas. Read this paragraph over a few times because this New Moon chart is asking you to become Mercury, to bring awareness to the oceans and to our Mother's blood, and to adopt his quickening wisdom. Mercury says the wake-up call had to come now, that we should be grateful for the truth.

Jupiter/Uranus trines Venus in Cancer, which suggests that feminine power is healing and transforming our world through the multitude of women who are waiting for the patriarchy to collapse. We must trust in the greater plan now, which has been the challenge all the way through Night Six of the Galactic since last November. Jupiter/Uranus are in opposition to Saturn in Virgo, and Pluto in Capricorn forms the top of a T-square to the opposition. This T-square will move in and out of formation for a long time, and will get even stronger when Saturn goes back into Libra, because then all four planets will be in cardinal signs. Since this New Moon is a reading for the impact of the oil volcano, it is stunning that Pluto, the ruler of oil, is in Capricorn and squaring Saturn opposite Uranus/Jupiter. First of all, Jupiter/Uranus in early Aries opposite Saturn in late Virgo is demanding radical change in all Earth structures, and then the square from Pluto means that the basis of the radical change is transformation of how we use oil in the future. Maybe it took this spill to reveal the cover-up on the Abiotic Oil Theory? One thing I do know, the Planetary Underworld has been the age of industry and oil, the Galactic Underworld is the transformation of this age by technology, so maybe the new technologies will provide some solutions.

Chiron and Neptune are conjunct, which means the theme of going into the deepest wounds in order to access spirit is relentless. They oppose Mars in Virgo, which means this deep healing process is very strong during this lunation. This aspect rules the sea by means of Neptune, so again I see signs of potential great change here. And, I am optimistic as usual, and in this case because Saturn exactly sextiles Venus in Cancer, our planet supports our growth and nurturance during these times, which is a miracle. Overall, this lunation is an alchemy in its own right because of all the close aspects to Mercury. Cosmic intelligence will be infusing our planet intensely, and the reading for the Summer Solstice will offer some ideas about how we each must be the alchemist, how we must birth the cosmic awakening in our own lives during this long hot and sticky summer.
